Sausalito Documentary Film Series: Sausalito After the Bridge

Friday, February 6 – 7pm inside the Library

Our documentary series comes to an end with a screening of Eric Torney's new film, Sausalito After the Bridge, which tells the story of how Sausalito changed after the opening of the Golden Gate Bridge in 1937. The film's narrative is interspersed with interviews, old movies, and current and archival photos. Topics covered include the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, the Sausalito Ferry Terminal, the Marinship shipyard, the houseboat community, and the Art Festival. Torney will be on hand to introduce the film. (Co-sponsored by the Sausalito Historical Society)

One Hundred Years of Landscape Art in Northern California

Tuesday, February 10 – 2pm in the Council Chambers

Fine Arts Museums of San Francisco Docent Ellen Harden will explore the rich landscape tradition in Northern California through the eyes of visual artists from Arthur Mathews and William Keith to Wayne Thiebaud and William T. Wiley. (Sponsored by the Friends of the Sausalito Library)

Book Discussion: All the Light We Cannot See by Anthony Doerr

Tuesday, February 10 – 7pm in the Friends of the Library Bookstore

Have you read Anthony Doerr's instant classic 'All the Light We Cannot See'? If you have, please consider joining us for a lively discussion facilitated by Leslie Goss of the Sausalito Library's Contemporary Literature Book Club. All are welcome.

Met Opera Preview: Tchaikovsky's Iolanta and Bartok's Bluebeard's Castle

Tuesday, February 10 – 7pm in the Edgewater Room

Join Tom Wilhite for a preview of the Metropolitan Opera's upcoming performances of Tchaikovsky's Iolanta and Bartok's Bluebeard's Castle, including background information on the operas and a selection of audio and video clips from past performances. Tom's preview takes place on the Tuesday before the Saturday morning Live in HD simulcast from the Met — screened locally at Sausalito's CinéArts theater.

Play Reading – BANYAN: There's no place like...

Friday, February 13 – 7pm inside the Library

Please join us for our first play reading inside the Library! Director Norman Gee will present BANYAN by playwright and Sausalito resident Jeannie Barroga. Barroga has a long list of awards and national productions to her name. In BANYAN, a large tree houses a renegade group on an unspecified island. In the U.S., however, Ona is relegated to the shredding room of a big corporation. She's due for a vacation but needs to travel with her reluctant brother. The Oz-like characters she meets guide her deeper into a jungle-like world and closer to the mystery she's eluded in the shredding room.
