DOF estimates population every year. The census counts population at longer stretch intervals (10 yrs?). DOF uses the census count as a benchmark whenever the census occurs. That's why the year the census is taken is usually closest to the DOF number.

The DOF collects housing unit data in Sausalito and tracks changes in housing – for example, new constructions, multi units, conversions (e.g., duplex into apartment complex), demolitions (both natural, like fire, and manmade, like rebuilding), and annexations. Then the DOF applies an estimate of persons per household.
