6. Evaluation of First Public Workshop. Staff has received lots of positive feedback from the First Public Workshop. It would probably be beneficial to do a write-up of the information conveyed at the workshop. Jessica Mullins of the Marinscope has indicated an interest in obtaining the tape from the meeting and preparing a report for the paper.

- Public comment: Michael Rex stated no downzoning can address multi-unit FAR issues. He suggests directing people to EAH and other websites regarding climate changes and commuting. The Marin Economic Forum has performed an analysis of the relationship of labor to housing.
- Another member of the public stated that we need more notice of the next workshop and that it would be helpful to have audience microphones so that comments can be heard throughout the room. Possible venues could include the MLK gym or the Star of the Sea Church.

- Mayor Herb Weiner assured the committee that he would work to ensure additional members are appointed to the Housing Element Committee so that the committee can have a quorum even if not every member attends.
